The case method is a teaching approach that uses decision-forcing cases to put students in the role of people who were faced with difficult decisions at some point in the past. It developed during the course of the twentieth-century from its origins in the casebook method of teaching law pioneered by Harvard legal scholar Christopher C. Langdell. In sharp contrast to many other teaching methods ...

Different types of case study research methods. In business research, four common case study approaches are distinguished. First, there is the "no theory first" type of case study design, which is closely connected to Kathleen M. Eisenhardt's methodological work. The second type of research design is about "gaps and holes", following Robert K. Yin's guidelines and making positivist assumptions.
