In this article, you can learn about laboratory-developed tests, also called "LDTs", that are developed, evaluated, and validated within one particular laboratory. They are not distributed or sold to any other labs or healthcare facilities to perform on their own. Often, a lab will choose to develop and use an LDT because a commercial test is not currently available.

The newest form of prenatal testing for Down syndrome is regularly referred to as testing cell free fetal DNA. At the recent American College of Medical Genetics (ACMG) annual meeting it was made clear that, in fact, what is mostly being tested is placental DNA. Perhaps using precise language would make clear that NIPT remains a highly accurate screening test, not a diagnostic test, since it
