Students build their own small-scale model roller coasters using pipe insulation and marbles, and then analyze them using physics principles learned in the associated lesson. They examine conversions between kinetic and potential energy and frictional effects to design roller coasters that are completely driven by gravity.

Please, James, that is the same old tired slayer argument. Yes, the ultimate source of energy is the sun. But if the total downward energy flux was only 300 W/m², then the temperature would never rise above about 35 deg. F (assuming an infrared emissivity of 0.9)...even colder if you assume convective losses.
